HUMAN INTEREST OF STREET

Incidents Noted In Daily Round of National Capital.

An amusing story is going the rounds of a certain neighborhood in the northwest section, at the expense of one of Washington's inexperienced gardeners who is trying to "do his bit" in the food-growing campaign.

After carefully studying the directions for sowing the various seeds, the would-be farmer planted a number of vegetables, among them a long row of carrots.

Having read that one of the most important procedures in gardening is to keep the plot free from weeds, the party in question worked diligently at the task, and at the end of about three weeks he had a pretty thoroughly cultivated garden, with everything showing up nicely—but not a sign of a carrot.

During a comparison of gardens with a neighbor of considerable experience, the novice suggested that his friend might improve his plot if he would remove the numerous weeds which had sprung up.

"Weeds, is it?" exclaimed the neighbor. "Why, man, that's one of the finest beds of carrots you ever looked at."

Whereupon the inexperienced one hid himself to a seed store and purchased more carrots—and he's letting the "weeds" grow.

SENATORS WILL HEAR EXPERTS ON AVIATION

Committee Plans Inquiry Into Sheppard-Hurlbut Bill.

The Senate Military Affairs subcommittee, headed by Senator Sheppard, which has begun an inquiry into the Sheppard-Hurlbut bill to establish a department of aeronautics, will resume its sessions tomorrow.

Representative Hurlbut announced that it was the purpose to bring a number of leading authorities on the subject of aviation before the subcommittee. Rear Admiral Peary, who made the striking statements yesterday as to the value of the aeroplane, will be heard further.

Interest in the subject of aviation in Congress promises to be further awakened by the effort to get a department of aeronautics. The Government is perfecting plans to send great numbers of aviators to France, and also many machines for training purposes.

Rear Admiral Peary declares there is no limit to the number of machines or aviators this country should send to the battle front. He believes the German aerial force can be driven from the air, and reconnoissance by the German army made practically impossible by the development of American air fighters, to say nothing of its effect in conquering the submarine.
